About DPPC

The Disabled Persons Protection Commission (DPPC) is an independent state agency established by legislation in 1987. Massachusetts General Law chapter 19C (M.G.L. c. 19C) created DPPC to protect adults with mental and physical disabilities, ages 18 to 59, from abuse or neglect by caregivers in private, family, or state care settings. DPPC's enabling statute fills the gap between Massachusetts child (ages 0–17) and older adult abuse laws (age 60 and over). In cases of suspected abuse or neglect of a person with a disability, DPPC:

- Receives and screens reports of suspected abuse and neglect through its 24-hour Hotline and Online reporting form.
- Receives and screens reports of all deaths when an individual dies while in the care of a state or private service provider
- Forwards reports not within the jurisdiction of DPPC to the appropriate state agency for review/action
- Conducts investigations
- Oversees investigations conducted by other state agencies on DPPC's behalf
- Ensures appropriate protective services are provided when abuse is substantiated
- Provides training and education

Mandated Reporting

Anyone that suspects an adult with a disability is being abused is encouraged to file a report with the DPPC. However, there are certain professions, referred to as Mandated Reporters, that are more likely to become aware of abuse or neglect and are required by law to report suspected abuse or neglect to DPPC when they have a suspicion that a person with a disability is experiencing a reportable case of abuse or neglect. Please visit DPPC's website for a complete list of Mandated Reporters. Allegations of abuse or neglect must be reported immediately to DPPC's 24-hour Hotline or Online for non-emergent reports. In addition, when the death of an individual with a disability occurs, the caregiver agency is required to immediately make an oral report to DPPC's 24-hour Hotline, even when there is no suspicion that the death resulted from abuse.
